- Poem 2. The Kite

THE KITE

The poem, 'Kite' is written by Harry Behn.

He was born in 1898 and died in 1973.

He was popular as American Children's author.

He was also a great screenwriter

He wrote screen plays in many war films

FIRST APPEARANCE OF THE KITE

- How bright on the blue
- Is a kite when it's new.
- With a dive and dip
- It snaps its tail
- Then soars like a ship
- With only a sail

MOVEMENT OF THE KITE

- As over tides
- Of wind it rides
- Climbs to the crest
- Of a gust and pulls,
- Then seems to rest
- As wind falls

KITE AND THE WIND

- When string goes slack
- You wind it back
- And run until
- A new breeze blows
- And its wings fill
- And up it goes.

KITE FLAPS AT THE END

- How bright on the blue
- Is a kite when it's new.
- But a raggeder thing
- You never will see
- When it flaps on a string
- In the top of a tree.
