LESSON-2 A GIFT OF CHAPPALS

MODULE- 3

LET'S HAVE A QUICK LOOK AT WHAT WE HAVE LEARNED :

- Three of them looking through the window
- Lalli was awkwardly holding her violin
- Her elbow jutting out
- Eyes glazed with concentration

MUSIC MASTER

- Mostly bald
- A fringe of oiled black hair falling around his ears and wore an old-fashioned tuft
- He played a few notes
- Lalli stumbled behind him!!

"Amma!" came a wail from the gate

"Amma oh!"

- Ravi was asked to send away the beggar
- Patti explained Tapi that the beggar has been coming here every day, the past week.
- Mridu, Meena followed Ravi
- The beggar made him comfortable already in the garden, and asked the beggar to GO Away!
- The beggar pleaded again and raised his voice "Amma oh Amma"
- Rukku Manni replied Ravi, tell him there's nothing left in the kitchen
- Beggar said "I'll go! I'll go! He said wearily. Only let me have rest here under this tree, The sun is so hot, the tar has melted on the road. My feet are already blistered."

Mridu whispered to Meena – Ravi

- That he has no money to buy chappals
- Went inside house to get the chappals
- Gave those black chappals
